CONFERENCE TOPIC

Ireland's regional and local road network is the backbone of connectivity, economic growth, and community development. The network is facing numerous challenges which continue to evolve, and range from the impacts of climate change and abnormal loads to the pressure of meeting housing targets and integrating emerging technologies like artificial intelligence.

The Roads Services Training Group Conference 2027 will explore these critical issues, providing insight into investment strategies, climate adaptation, asset management, and capital project case studies. It will also highlight innovative approaches and future-focused solutions to ensure a resilient, sustainable, and smart road network for generations to come.

Join us as we bring together experts, decision-makers, and innovators to shape the future of Ireland's roads.
